Description

Aptly named PALAZZO delle LUCE, this classically designed palatial property is located on one of the largest and finest plots within the highly esteemed La Zagaleta Country Club, close to the south gate with superb mountain and sea views. Constructed in 2003 from the very finest materials, and featuring a whole range of state-of-the-art technology, this south facing villa is the perfect setting for entertaining guests. A Peek Inside this Property: A Dream for Those that Like to Entertain Access to the villa is via an impressive long and winding driveway, which leads to a large circular entrance that boasts a central feature fountain and parking for multiple vehicles. The main villa entrance sits under a dramatic double height columned facade with its large welcoming exterior chandelier. Once inside, the dramatic double height entrance sits underneath another exquisite handmade chandelier, with a further custom chandelier extending from the roof down through all three floors. The white marble used was sourced from the same quarries used many years ago by Michael de Angelo. The bright main reception area has a high ceiling and large open fireplace with multiple Palladian doors leading guests out onto the spacious terraces with epic views of the gardens, an infinity pool, surrounding woodlands and mountains down to the Spanish and African coastlines. The circular formal dining area...
